

Bible stories tell us that before the world began, the Lord took mud and shaped from it He made Man: but Adam wasn't satisfied, he had to have a bride, so the Lord. He took a rib from Adam's si-hi-side. And so started out to meet each other, never met before, But they recognized each other by the clothes each other wore.

She wore a tulip, a big yellow tulip, and he wore a big, red rose; and red rose

as he grew bolder he began to behold her, from her head down to her toes ————— started a game say'n the Lord is some mechanic if he head down to her toes and made you from a rib of my side — And if I ever want a harem, I've got six more ribs to spare. but she blushed like a sunset new bri-hi-hide.
